Deposits, charges, and refunds:

The rules of admission and participation in Camp Linwood are the same for everyone without distinction race, color, religion, sex, disability, or national origin. It is understood that all campers will be treated as individuals and respected for reasonable differences in tastes, preferences, abilities and variety of behavior patterns. Camp fees are non-refundable if a camper leaves due to nostalgia, dismissal or voluntary retirement. Camp Sol of the Deaf, Inc reserves the right to remove any camper from the camp whose special needs they cannot meet or whose conduct is not in the best interest of the total camp, without refund.

Deposit must accompany registration form to be valid. Fees less any scholarship awarded, must be paid a minimum of two weeks prior to camp participation. Refunds are provided in the event of serious illness or mandatory summer school at-attendance which can be shown to prohibit rescheduling the session to a later date. No refund is given if a child leaves the camp for disciplinary reasons.
